

So what do I need to use Pronunciator®?

Pronunciator® is a FREE, web-based service that requires a computer or laptop with an internet or WiFi connection, or a smartphone that can download the Pronunciator® app, and of course - a library card from the Robert J. Kleberg Public Library. Your library card is your passport to explore new worlds and languages that Pronunciator® has to offer you.

Although Pronunciator® is FREE, you will need to create a Pronunciator® user account that consists of your library card number and an active e-mail address. If you prefer not to sign-up for a Pronunciator® account, you can still "test drive" Pronunciator® as an Anonymous User by accessing the service with just your library card number. If you wish to use the Voice Compare Technology during your learning experience, you will also need to have an external or built-in microphone for your computer or laptop so that you can record your voice.

A review from the Children's Librarian

Unlike other language programs that I have seen and used, Pronunciator includes two lesson plans intended for children. The Early Learners course is for children aged 3 to 6 years old. The Young Learners course is for children aged 7 to 12 years of age. The gift of language is so very important to success in our multi-cultural world. I feel that this program is a wonderful way to get them started at a young age when learning is easier. I highly recommend visiting our website in order to get started today.

How Pronunciator® Works

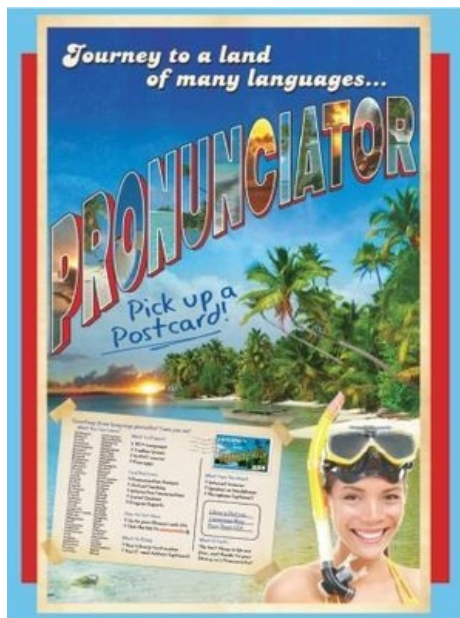

At first glance, Pronunciator® appears to be a very simple website that gives you some very simple options - you sign in, you choose your language, and that's where the real fun begins.

Start your language journey by selecting an option from the course menu on the right side of your screen.

If you're an independent learner, then the Main Course is right for you, with its flexible organization and fun extras like movies, music and more.

But if you prefer a more structured approach, then select one of the multi-week Learning Guides. These are sectioned by age and skill level for a simpler lesson plan.

You can also jump into the Main Course and learn with Postcards, which are guided and don't require a microphone.

The World of Pronunciator®

Whether you want to learn a new language, or sharpen your skills on one you already know, Pronunciator® will be the sweetest online service you have ever experienced. Pronunciator® Languages is the library's online, language - learning service that teaches you a new language in the comfort of your own home, without ever questioning the language and the dialect. The course is designed for people who wish to learn a new language on their own time, at their own pace, and most importantly, hear it spoken accurately and correctly.

There has never been an easier way to learn a new language, because with Pronunciator® Languages you are sure to succeed in any language you start. Say "goodbye" to costly fees and services that offer you one course at a time. With Pronunciator®, you have access to over 80 languages whenever you are ready! So what are you waiting for? Dive into the "grove" of languages with Pronunciator® today!
