LIBRARIES TRANSFORM

~~~~~
With a library card, patrons have access to a variety of free resources and services. Stop by the library to sign-up for a new library card or renew an expired card.

To find out how much money a patron can save with a library card, visit the library's website, select the "My Library" tab, and click on "Value of Library Services" to calculate the savings.

American Library Association Observance

Banned Books Week:

- Highlights the value of free and open access to information.
- Supports the freedom to seek and to express ideas, even those some consider unorthodox or unpopular.
- Brings together the entire book community.
- Draws national attention to the harms of censorship.

Check out frequently challenged books and explore titles that have been banned or challenged over the years.

Staff News

Farewell Miss Jessica

The Library Board, Director, and staff wish a fond farewell to Children's Services Librarian Jessica Rogers. Jessica had a short time to prepare for the summer program, and she hit the ground running.

Thank you for sharing your enthusiasm and creativity.
We wish you all the best!!

Library Resources

Attention Students:

LearningExpress Library features online tutorials, practice tests, and e-books to help patrons of all ages. To kick off the school year, the September Newsletter is featuring the School Center.

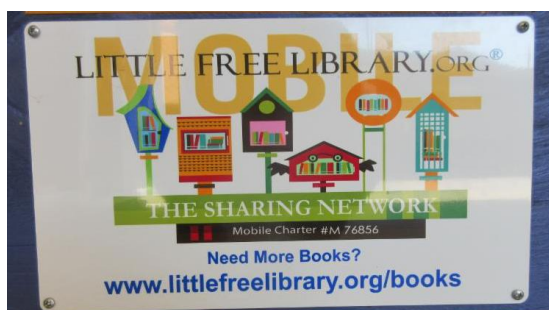

School Center

School Center

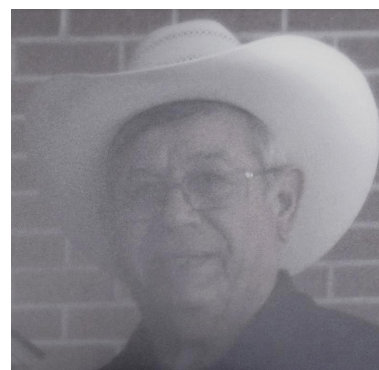

The resources in the School Center provide skill-building for classroom and homework success. The school center helps students in elementary, middle, and high school prepare for important tests, get extra help with assignments, and boost their skills in important subjects. To access this resource, visit the library's website, select eLearning Digital Resources, click on LearningExpress 3.0, and register.

Start the school year right.

Little Free Library - On the Map

The Little Free Library, located at the Robert J. Kleberg Public Library, is officially on the Little Free Library Map. Find the library by entering city, zip code, or the library's charter

A little free library is registered when a charter sign is purchased, and Dr. Tadeo Reyna, Jr., library board
